AMAZING THINGS YOU CAN LEARN ABOUT FROM THE PAST TENSE

Anglo-Saxon Food and Drinks

Did you know that wealthy Anglo-Saxons ate beef, mutton and deer also they drank wine. While the poor who drank beer in addition to beer Anglo-Saxons ate fruit and vegetables. Also what they ate bread, eggs, cheese and fish. There was used by Anglo-Saxons many types of cheeses. They didn't have potatoes, rice, lentils and other stuff.

ANGLO-SAXON DAILY LIFE

Interestingly, Anglo-Saxons lived in pokey wooden huts. Did you know that they had to pee and poo in the nearest bush? You might a little know fact that boys had to help their fathers farm and hunt, girls had to help at home and help their mothers do house work. Amazingly, most Anglo-Saxons where farmers. In Anglo-Saxon times pokey meant small.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

In crime and punishment there are fines you have to pay and trials you would have to do. In a trial by ember if you would have to hold a red hot iron bar for 3 long strides and after 3 days your hand felt healed you are guilty. In a trial by water you would have to put your hand in burning hot water and pick out a stone and after 3 days if your hand hasn't healed your guilty. If you were paying a fine you would have to pay 250 shillings. Finally if you were going to the gallows you would pay your 'weerd'.
